Stars Of Three Networks Win Top TV Awards

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Walt Disney and Danny Thomas, clutching two Emmies apiece, today proved that television has three solid networks. The two ABC stars, along with NBC's George Gobel and Loretta Young, plus Art Carney and Audrey Meadows, dominated Monday night's seventh annual Emmy awards of the Television Academy.

The show, sparkling with entertainment, was nationally televised over NBC-TV. Disney, already the possessor of 22 movie Oscars, won an Emmy for the best variety series on TV. And his "Operation Under Sea," an episode in the Disneyland series, was adjudged the best individual program of the year.

Thomas, star of Make Room for Daddy, was named the best actor in a regular series. His show was selected the best situation comedy series.

John Daly of ABC won for being the best news reporter, and the U. S. Steel Hour, also on ABC, was named the best dramatic series.

Loretta Young became the first actress in Hollywood history to hold both a movie Oscar and an Emmy. She was named the best actress in a regular series.

George Gobel, in his first year on TV, was named television's outstanding new personality. Carney and Miss Meadows were named best supporting actor and actress in a regular series.

The graying, bespectacled officer was accused of collaborating by making propaganda speeches, forming peace committees, signing and circulating documents detrimental to his country, offering aid to the enemy and foiling escape plans. He based his defense on the fact he was subjected to duress, followed orders of his superior and that he acted always for the welfare of his men.

Each of the counts could have brought as much as a life sentence.

The secretary, who returned Sunday from a tip to the Far East, had plenty of opportunity today to outline such a view, either at secret briefings to congressional committees or in a report tonight to the nation.

He is making a day of it: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the morning, the House Foreign Affairs Committee in the afternoon and national radio-television networks tonight.

The recorded half-hour talk will be carried over radio by CBS (9 p.m. CST), ABC (9:30 p.m.) and MBS (10:30 p.m.). A film will be televised over Columbia (10:15 p.m.).

Officials said Dulles appeared convinced the Chinese Communists would make some move toward carrying out their threats to attack Formosa.

He was said to be unwilling, even in private conversations, to spend off American intentions on defense of the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu, just off the Red mainland opposite Formosa.

Dulles and President Eisenhower have said Quemoy and Matsu will be defended if attacked by Red China in an obvious drive to conquer Formosa.

Between their meeting in China in 1951 and their reunion in San Francisco last month lies a story of waiting and a seemingly endless struggle with officialdom on both sides of the Pacific. Here are some

Economist Says U.S. May Be Heading For Financial Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—John K. Galbraith, Harvard economist said today the United States may be in the early stages of a boom-and-bust cycle that could end in a 1929-style crash.

Galbraith told the Senate Banking Committee there are "formidable safeguards" against another such crash. But he spoke in his prepared testimony of "resemblances" between conditions in the late 1920s and today that he said "are certainly interesting and possibly disturbing."

He urged that the government and Wall Street be ready to halt credit buying of stocks and to put on other emergency brakes if the 1½-year-old bull market shows no sign of slackening in the near future.

U.S. And Canada Adopt Air Raid Warning Signals

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Canada have worked out new simplified signals to be sounded on sirens, horns and other warning devices in the event of enemy air attack.

The new signals, effective at once, were announced Monday night by the federal civil defense system. They are:

1. Alert signal—a steady blast of three to five minutes on warning devices.

2. Take cover signal—a wailing tone or a series of short blasts continuing for three minutes.

Civil defense officials said they believe "the public can be more readily trained to recognize" the new signals, which supersede all previous warning instructions.

In most target areas, the civil defense announcement said, the alert signal will indicate evacuation. In most nontarget areas, it will call for mobilization of civil defense forces.

Auto Insurance
Gouger Punished

LANSING (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre today revoked the license of a Mt. Clemens agent accused of overcharging on premiums for automobile policies.

The agent is Walter Fiebler, of the Preibus Insurance and Bonding Co.

Navarre said the agent had made restitution of $155 in taxes to the state and "several hundred dollars" to policy holders in the form of reissued insurance.

John B. Martin, then auditor general, accused Fiebler of "the worst gouging of the little policy holder I've ever seen" during an investigation of the insurance department last fall.

Martin reported many of Fiebler's customers were airmen at Selfridge Air Force Base.

Williams Critical

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan has criticized President Eisenhower's education program as "unrealistic." Williams made the criticism Monday night in a speech before the Economic Club of New York.

The committee called Galbraith and Harold E. Wood, of St. Paul, Minn., president of the National Assn. of Securities Dealers, in its "friendly study" of the stock market in the light of the stock price rise.

Galbraith voiced agreement with stock exchange presidents who testified earlier that the American economy is far stronger than in 1929. He agreed too there are safeguards against a new crash, among them curbs on "wholesale market rigging and fervent salesmanship."

But he cautioned that "the fundamental problem of containing a speculative orgy, once it is well launched, remains essentially unsolved."

Galbraith, who has written a soon-to-be-published book on the 1929 financial debacle, saw such danger signs now as increased credit buying, an influx of newcomers into the market and a growing gap between the sale price and the book value of shares.

Coleman filed for debate an amendment to the committee plan to distribute any new highway revenues on the present formula—44 per cent to the state, 37 per cent to the counties and 19 per cent to the cities.

The Coleman amendment would give 75 per cent of the new money to the state to develop a four-lane divided highway arterial system. The other 25 per cent would be split two-thirds and one-third, respectively, between the counties and the municipalities.

The committee recommendation was a revision of the Peltz Bill which was approved in the House under an agreement with Gov. Williams.

The Senate and House disagreed formally Monday night on the extension of the 1952 Business Receipts Tax, due to expire March 15.

The measure went to an inter-chamber conference committee.

Ohio Flood Evicts
2600 Families; Loss
Mounts In Millions

CINCINNATI (AP)—The hump of the flooding Ohio River moved slowly downstream today, forcing hundreds of families and businesses from the shore areas.

It left a wake of heavy property damage as it spilled out along its natural borderline separating Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana.

An estimated 2,600 families were affected. In Ohio alone, some 900 families fled shore area homes.

The Weather Bureau at Cincinnati called it a "major flood" because more than two thirds of the 981-mile river was at least five feet over flood stage. The American Red Cross classed it as a "disaster."

Sections of Main Street in Pomeroy, the county seat of Meigs County, were under 5 feet of water. Thirty-six homes were evacuated and 46 businesses were knocked out. Schools were closed.

At Catlettsburg, Ky., between Huntington and Ashland, 1,800 persons or one third of the total population, had to leave their homes, police reported. Another 80 families were evacuated at Henderson, W. Va., Monday and 35 at Kingston, W. Va.

Bridge Work Will Be Resumed April 1

LANSING (AP)—The Mackinac Bridge Authority reported to the Legislature today that work on the 99 million dollar structure across the Straits of Mackinac will resume April 1. The commission said work will resume then on two main piers, on the north approach piers May 8 and on the south approach piers June 10. All piers are scheduled for completion by the end of 1955.

Gov. Williams was in New York addressing the New York City Economic club when the bill became available for signing.

Hart's action Monday put into motion machinery to pay bonuses averaging $250 to $275 to about 250,000 Michigan men and women. The bonus will be paid at the rate of $10 for each month of service within the United States between June 27, 1950, and Dec. 31, 1953, and $15 a month for service overseas.

Lt. Col. Leo C. Whitaker, chief of the bonus section of the military establishment, said he hoped to mail out the first bonus checks April 8.

Fire that destroyed their small cottage in the woods about 13 miles south of Escanaba today claimed the life of Mrs. Myrtle Grace Curry, 37, and seriously burned her husband, Harry, 31.

From his bed in St. Francis Hospital, where he is receiving treatment for burns covering 75 percent of his body, Curry sobbed out the story of the fire to officers of the sheriff's department.

Undersheriff Cully Johnson said that Curry told him that he had built up the fire in the stove at 3 o'clock this morning and then gone back to bed. He was awakened about 6 by smoke and flames.

Rescue Effort Fails

"I tried to drag Myrtle out of the bedroom and to the door, but she was hysterical," Curry told officers. "She broke away. The fire was getting worse. I tried to get her out of the bedroom. Then I had to make a run for it."

Undersheriff Johnson said Curry would not have been so badly burned if he had not delayed in trying to save his wife. The officer described the cabin as part log and part frame construction.

Escaping from the burning house, Curry ran to a small camp about 150 feet distant, where his father, Norman, resided. The elder Curry took his son to St. Francis Hospital and then reported the tragedy to the sheriff's department.

Body Recovered

Curry was employed in the woods and the scene of the tragic fire is one mile north of County Road 535 in the southeast corner of Bark River Township, and about two miles west of Highway M-35.

The body of Mrs. Curry, badly burned, was recovered later this morning from ashes of the still-smoldering fire. Officers said the small stove, in which the fatal fire had been kindled, was standing about in the center of the ruin.

Mrs. Curry was born Feb. 11, 1918 at Bark River Rte. 2. She was an Episcopalian by faith.

Surviving are her husband; one son, Joseph Larmay Jr., of Alhambra, Calif., two sisters, Mrs. Mae Mitchell of Escanaba and Mrs. Glen Bill, Hyde, and one brother, Theodore DeWar of Alhambra, Calif.

The body was brought to the Anderson Funeral Home where funeral services will be completed tomorrow.

Abandon Islands, Advice To Chiang

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today called on Chiang Kai-Shek to withdraw his Nationalist armed forces from the coastal islands off China.

Giving the House of Commons a report on his Bangkok meeting with U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and tour of Southeast Asia, Eden praised both the United States and Chinese Communists for relaxing tension over Formosa.

However, he said sounding out Peiping on a cease-fire had led him to "come reluctantly to the conclusion that the necessary conditions for progress do not yet exist."

"The U.S. government have already given positive proofs of their desire to relax tension and reduce the risks of war," Eden said. "I am convinced that they wish to see conditions created which would put an end to active military hostilities in the area and reduce the dangers of a wider conflict."

"They have effectively restrained the Chinese Nationalists in recent weeks from initiating attacks against the Chinese mainland. They have persuaded the Nationalists to evacuate the Tachen and Nanchi islands."

Sen. Gore Polls Governors On Road Financing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) polled the nation's governors today in an effort to find out whether the states are ready, willing and able to put up more money for highway improvement.

Gore is chairman of a Senate Public Works subcommittee now considering President Eisenhower's plan for a huge new 10-year federal-state highway modernization program and Gore's rival proposal for an increase in the present federal aid highway program. Both proposals would entail bigger state outlays.

Bigger Allocation Sought

In separate telegrams to the 48 state chief executives, Gore said the subcommittee had instructed him to ask for governors' views on "the ability and present inclination of their respective states to raise the additional funds to match and implement proposals now before it."

Gore explained that he proposes to nearly double the present $75-million-dollar annual federal highway allocation. The states would continue to match most of the federal funds on a 50-50 basis.

He said the Eisenhower administration's highway program, while recommending "greatly increased" federal spending on interstate roads, provides "no increase in federal funds for primary, farm-to-market, or urban projects."

Big Boost Required

In the same wires, Gore cited figures to show that his bill would boost federal outlays for roads not part of the interstate system by 400 millions a year.

Gore said the administration program calls for the states and local governments to put out within the next decade 29 billions more than they are spending now to bring all roads and streets outside of the interstate system "up to required standards."

Under present plans and programs, 47 billion dollars would be spent on highway work over the next 10 years, the federal government spending 10 billions and the states 37 billions.

The administration has estimated its new plan would cost 101 billions over the 10-year span, with the federal share 31 billions-plus. Of the federal slice, 25 billions would be earmarked for a 40,000-mile network of interstate roads, for which the states would put up 1 billion.

Wisconsin Major Freed On Charge Of Aiding Enemy

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP)—Maj. Ambrose H. Nugent was free today to return to his first love, the field artillery. A court-martial acquitted him of aiding the enemy while a prisoner of war for 38 months in Korea.

His seven-week trial was the longest in U. S. military history. The court deliberated just over two hours Monday before acquitting the Army career officer on nine specifications. Seven of the nine colonels on the court were Korean veterans.

Nugent, 45, was the first of five former Korea POWs tried on collaboration charges to be found innocent.

After the verdict, he broke into a big smile. A handful of spectators rushed to congratulate him.

He said his acquittal was a vindication of military justice. He told newsmen:

"I want to take a short leave for a physical checkup and have my teeth fixed and then I want to resume my career in the Army."

Nugent, of Merrill, Wis., began his Army career with the Wisconsin National Guard 24 years ago and for the past 14 years has served continuously.

The graying, bespectacled officer was accused of collaborating by making propaganda speeches, forming peace committees, signing and circulating documents detrimental to his country, offering aid to the enemy and foiling escape plans. He based his defense on the fact he was subjected to duress, followed orders of his superior and that he acted always for the welfare of his men.

Navy Denied Use Of Detroit Field

DETROIT (AP)—The Navy has been refused use of the Wayne County Airport as a replacement for Grosse Ile Naval Air Station, a county official disclosed today.

Leroy C. Smith, county highway engineer and airport manager, said the refusal was because taxpayers had paid for developing the field in anticipation of a shift of major airlines from Willow Run.

Smith said he suggested to Rear Adm. Lloyd Harrison, acting chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, that Willow Run would make a good military field if and when the airlines leave there. But officials at Willow Run said they had not been contacted by the Navy.

The two fields are some 10 miles apart, both west of Detroit.

Weber Named Deputy Highway Commissioner

LANSING (AP)—Carlos A. Weber today was appointed deputy highway commissioner and chief engineer by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

He succeeds Harry C. Coons, long-time deputy highway commissioner who died of a heart attack recently.

Weber, 53, who soon completes his 35th year with the department, joined the department in 1920 and has served as a draftsman, design engineer and road engineer.

Reds Not Bluffing, Says Dulles; Island Raid Expected Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles was described today as believing the Chinese Communists are not bluffing and will shortly make some military move against Nationalist-held islands opposite Formosa.

The secretary, who returned Sunday from a tip to the Far East, had plenty of opportunity today to outline such a view, either at secret briefings to congressional committees or in a report tonight to the nation.

He is making a day of it: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the morning, the House Foreign Affairs Committee in the afternoon and national radio-television networks tonight.

Lonla Shifts 200
Insane Criminals

LANSING (AP)—State officials said today a hazardous situation may develop from the transfer of some 200 mentally ill prison inmates to the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Ionia.

Charles F. Wagg, director of the State Mental Health Department, said the first of the prisoners will start arriving at the hospital in about two weeks, under an agreement with the State Corrections Department.

Transfer of the prisoners will cause serious overcrowding in some wards, he said.

Corrections and mental health department officials have feuded over the number of psychotic prisoners to be transferred from prisons to the Ionia hospital upon completion of a 200-bed addition there.

Wagg said corrections officials have given him a list of 178 psychotic inmates to be transferred to the addition, scheduled to be turned over to the Mental Health Department today. Wagg said corrections officials told him they would supply the names of an additional 22.

Wagg said the Ionia hospital now has 224 patients more than its capacity.

Lansing Man's Wife Gets Out Of China After 5-Year Struggle

LANSING (AP)—Years of fear under Japanese and communist rulers have ended for Mrs. Nancy Chien Lee — wife of a National Guard sergeant.

The shy daughter of a wealthy Cantonese merchant slipped through the bamboo curtain and arrived in Lansing over the weekend with her two sons and husband, radar repair specialist Lee Chen Yen.

Between their meeting in China in 1931 and their reunion in San Francisco last month lies a story of waiting and a seemingly endless struggle with officialdom on both sides of the Pacific. Here are some high points:

Lee met Nancy on a visit to Canton in 1931. They were married, then Lee returned to this country to finish his education.

The Japanese invaded China and Lee found it impossible to return. He joined the National Guard, saw service in Africa, and re-enlisted after the war.

By 1947, Lee had saved enough money to return to China. Two sons were born during their two years together. In 1949, the Communists came, and Lee was forced to flee the country.

Lee tried consistently to get his family into this country during the next five years.

Finally, Mrs. Lee was admitted as a non-quota immigrant. Lee turned to the problem of cracking the more formidable gates of China.

How that was done is a secret, apparently necessary to prevent retaliation against relatives and embarrassment of certain Chinese officials.

Father's Role In Scouting Is Told By Martin

Fathers who expect their sons to admire them and turn to them for guidance must be willing to devote some time to the boys before they are at the "hero worship" age, Carl Martin, Marquette, executive director of Hia-wathaland Council, Boy Scouts of America, told the Escanaba Rotary Club at its meeting Monday noon.

Martin voiced a plea for parental understanding of the boy as he goes through growing-up phases. He cited personal experiences as a Scout leader and as a father to emphasize his point that "we become adults too fast and too completely to be good parents."

There is the opportunity for fathers to join in games of imagination with their young sons, and some of the care of children should fall to the father for the benefit of both, he said.

Learning Together
At around age 9 the boy reaches the "gang" stage in social development and outlet for this urge is provided for in the Cub Scout program, Martin added. The boys are still very much in need of mother, however, and for this reason the Cub Dens have their Den mothers.

In Cubbing, however, the parents join the program with their sons, and father has an opportunity to share activities and grow with his son in understanding each other.

"Cubbing is a splendid time for sons and their parents to do things together," Martin said. "Later the boy will grow away from his mother and turn to his father for leadership. It is at this critical time in the development of the boy's character and personality that his father must be ready to do his part."

Take The Time
When boys reach the Scouting age mothers should expect their sons to transfer their hero-worship to an older boy, to a Scout leader—or to their father if he deserves it, Martin said. Mothers who attempt to keep their sons clinging to them create emotional difficulties for both, he added.

Fathers who through the years have taken their sons fishing, who have shared hikes and other outdoor experiences with their sons, need not fear that their boys will turn to others when the time comes for a "break" away from mother, the Scout executive said. "Take time out to do things with your son," he said. "Do it now—not later on. Because later on will be too late."

Martin was introduced by Dr. Roy B. Johnson of the Rotary Clubs program committee.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Dept. of English Bible,
National Council of Churches
Written for NEA Service

Lent is a season of cross-bearing. Jesus declared, "he who does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me" (Mark 10:38, RSV). Note that Christ's cross is something voluntary, something that must be taken up. We bear it, not because it is inevitable or inescapable, but because it is involved in our faithful acceptance of Christ's way of life. People sometimes speak of chronic pain, financial reverses, or a wayward child as a cross that must be borne.

Muriel Lester, brought up to a life of ease, found that she could not go on worshipping "the Eastern Carpenter in white Sunday clothes" whom the churches had placed in a stained glass window. For her, being a Christian meant doing something about the conditions under which the Joiners' Union lived! The Japanese Christian Kagawa gave up an assured position with the government that he might work among the laboring people of Japan, a task which eventually brought him into disfavor with the government. This is what it means to take up the cross.

Kiwanians Study Various Angles Of Power Situation

Statistics on electrical power production costs in the city of Escanaba were studied Monday by the Escanaba Kiwanis Club in their second program of a series covering the local utility situation.

Leading the discussion Monday was E. O. Shultz of the Minneapolis engineering firm of Pfeifer and Shultz, who made a survey during the past few months of three proposed solutions of the Escanaba power problem. Prospects for building a municipal power plant, tied in with a central steam heating plant, were given the major attention in Monday's discussion. At a previous meeting of the club heard details of the Upper Peninsula Power Co. plan to operate the Escanaba electrical system, and at a future meeting will be supplied with facts regarding a proposal to tie up with the REA for purchase of city power.

If the city builds its own generating plant, construction would be financed by operating revenue bonds under the program suggested by the Pfeifer and Shultz survey. Bonds would be retired out of electrical utility revenues which now go into the city general fund. In all three proposals, it was pointed out, the cost of fuel would be the main factor in influencing rates.

Members of the Escanaba city council were guests at the meeting Monday.

The armament of the first U.S. Navy destroyer included three rapid fire, breech loading rifles and two or three Gatling guns.

"Who knows a woman?" I'm supposed to—I'm a Hollywood movie director. One thing I've learned, you can work with women, live with them, even fall in love with them—and still really never get to know them.

It was that way with Maria. I thought I knew her. And I suppose in my own way I loved her—not that it was very difficult to fall in love with Maria. She was incredibly beautiful, the most exciting creature I had ever seen. She was sensitive, she was bright, she was gentle, she was honest.

I met her when she was a big "nothing"—the last time I saw her she was the most famous actress in the world... and a Contessa.

I'd been with her every step of the way from the beginning in Madrid to Hollywood, Paris, Rome and Monte Carlo. I knew where she went, what she did, and when she did it. I got to know everything about her—the what, the where, the when... but I never got to know why.

Why every so often, did the world's most beautiful woman take her shoes off and become the world's most beautiful animal!

The goal this year is $16,354, an increase from last year because of the new Red Cross blood program that will be instituted this year.

Fred Bernhardt is township chairman and chairman in each of the individual townships follow: Orville Wolfe, Cornell; Phil Miron, Ford River; Dave Phalen, Nahma; Mrs. Sherman Gierke, Fairbanks; John Small, Maple Ridge; Mrs. William Miller, Masonville; Mrs. Bertha Johnson, Bay de Noc; and Mrs. Harold Gustafson, Ensign.

The Delta County chapter has approved a proposal to join with the Badger Blood Clinic at Madison, Wis., to provide all of the blood needs for patients in Delta County. Hamtramck auto worker says, "A bill for $400 didn't worry us!"

"Most families would probably have to dig into their savings to pay a $400 hospital bill," says Mr. Marko, "But I had a bill that size, and our savings didn't suffer at all, because my family has Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Under our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract, I got all over $400 worth, and they didn't cost me anything. We've got Blue Shield for doctor bills, too, and that covered $165 for our doctor's services. All I had to do was show my Blue Cross-Blue Shield card at the hospital, and benefits were paid automatically. I've never seen anything like it!"

Letters From Americans Expose Red Distortions Of Life In U. S.

THE United States government is spending huge sums of money to get information about the American way of life to people behind the Iron Curtain. The program is attaining a degree of success as indicated by authentic reports coming from the Communist-controlled lands, although many American observers who have made a study of the American Information Service in Europe doubt that we are getting our money's worth.

There is, however, one volunteer program from this country that costs the

Words, Wit &amp; Wisdom

By William Morris

"Our family has had a lot of fun with your REAL GONE LEXICON," writes a Harrison (N. Y.) mother. "Our two high-school-age youngsters have, in their own words, 'really flipped' over this first full-length collection of their special teen-age language."

"But I have news for you, Mr. Word Expert," she continues. "Once the kids go to college their language seems to expand in several directions at once. The time-honored clichés of sorority house chatter turn up, of course. But the side of their jargon which most fascinates me is the free-wheeling adaptation of the technical terms learned in their college courses."

"Here's a for instance. While driving to a near-by town with my oldest daughter, home from college for vacation, I was startled to hear her direct the following question in the general direction of a very erratic driver ahead of us: 'What's your major maladjustment, mister?' When I asked her whether she really thought he had a major maladjustment, she commented, 'Most people do. It's just that some people use them as AGMs.'"

"And, what, may I ask, is an AGM?" her puzzled mother immediately wanted to know.

"Attention - Getting Mechanism, of course," was the calm reply."

"So there you have a pair of items from the jargon of today's college youngsters. Maybe you should edit a REAL GONE LEXICON—College Edition!"

Los Angeles, the denizens of Los Angeles, have been hard pressed these past few months to find words to describe their disgust with the atmospheric conditions prevailing thereabouts. "Smog," which had served Pittsburgh and St. Louis well enough—until protests of irate citizens brought reform of the conditions which caused it—was obviously too humdrum for this city of magnificent superlatives. So, they have coined their own special vocabulary to describe the various degrees of nastiness to which they are subjected. "Smust," for instance, is a blend of smoke and dust. "Smoud" is a combination of snow and low-changing clouds. (Snow in Los Angeles! What will the Chamber of Commerce say to all this?) And then there's "smaze"—smoke and haze. But the worst of all (Florida papers please copy) would seem to be "sneet." You guessed it—snow and sleet!

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

A Park Avenue psychiatrist was somewhat surprised to find one of Hollywood's most successful, publicized, and effervescent glamor girls waiting anxiously to see him. "Oh, Doctor," she explained piteously. "I need your help so badly! I can't sing; I can't dance; I can't act. It's so frustrating!"

The psychiatrist adopted his most soothing manner. "You can quit show business entirely," he reminded her. "Oh, no," she contradicted promptly. "I'm a big star!"

Harry Ruby tells about the prize fight manager whose inexperienced new mid-dleweight was taking an unmerciful trouncing in his first professional bout. Finally the manager propped up his unhappy

United States government nothing and which is producing tremendously important results. We refer to the letter-writing campaign of American foreign-born workers.

More than 100,000 foreign-born employees of Republic Steel Co., Inland Steel Co., the Hotpoint Co., and Bowman Dairy Co., as well as employees of other industries in the Chicago area are enlisted in a letter-writing campaign to spread the truth about conditions in this country to their friends and relatives in homelands. The campaign is completely voluntary, of course, but the companies are encouraging the program. Republic Steel Co., for instance, pays the postage for these letters to encourage the idea.

It is a program that might well be expanded to foreign-born American throughout the country.

These employees write about their own experiences in this country, their own working conditions, their own standard of living. They tell about their liberties and freedom in America and let their friends behind the Iron Curtain draw a comparison with conditions in the homeland.

The effectiveness of such a program is tremendous. The impersonal aspect of government "propaganda" is dissipated in this program. The information that is passed on by American workers to friends and relatives in the "old country" is readily accepted as the truth because it is the truth and because the recipients of these letters know the honesty of the letter-writers through personal knowledge.

The letter-writing campaign is so effective that it destroys the false Communist propaganda of starvation and poverty in America. It brands as a bare-faced lie the Communist claim that American capitalists are enriching themselves at the expense of the working man.

When an Iron Curtain resident gets a letter from a brother, a son or a personal friend in America and that letter reveals that the American worker earns enough in one day to buy a good pair of shoes, the impact of that information is immediately obvious. The Iron Curtain worker knows that he has to work many days to earn enough money to buy a pair of shoes. It completely disproves the Communist stories of American poverty.

Here is a program that should be vastly expanded. It is a program that costs little but earns big results in making the American situation better understood in Communist lands. It could be a very important program for world peace.

If you have friends in Communist-controlled countries, or if you have friends or neighbors with family connections behind the Iron Curtain, join this crusade for freedom!

When driving a new car you worry about getting into a wreck. With an old one, you may be already in it.

To stop hunger, a jungle tribe in Africa chews on strands of rubber. Sounds kinda crude to us.

Just turn the kids loose in anybody's house if you want to find out they're ripe, tearing little youngsters.

Today And Tomorrow

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—Harvey Matusow is an admitted former Communist whose recent actions make him look more than ever a tool of the Communists. He is a self-proclaimed unexampled liar who says he has testified falsely about some 240 Americans whom he has linked to Communism by evidence he invented. He is certainly one of the most unpleasant and unhealthy ex-crescences on the American landscape today.

When Senator Welker mistakenly addressed Matusow as "Mr. Matsu," this exhibitionist witness actually thought it only a joke for him to reply: "It is Matusow, Senator. I do not lie in the Formosa Strait."

Obviously Matusow is quick and bright, but when a man can be so pleased with his own degrading record of previous lying, he is unwittingly tipping us all to watch out against him, past, present, and future, now and forever, regardless of what he says or where he says it.

What seems to me important about the present Matusow testimony is not merely that he has chosen to withdraw past accu-

Roscoe Drummond's column will be substituted three days a week for the column of Walter Lippmann who is ill. Mr. Lippmann's column will be resumed when Mr. Lippmann returns to work.

sations, but that he proves himself to be an unreliable witness, a grossly, patently unreliable witness—unreliable in the past and unreliable in the present. Just because he pours it on that he was an unmitigated liar about people, including himself, in the past, why should we assume that he is an unmitigated truth-teller in the present?

HIS ASSOCIATIONS

Take his repeated, smug and disapproved statement that he wanted to testify about former Communists in order to "make up to his country" for having been a member of the Communist conspiracy himself. How did he redeem this crime? By impairing the true interests of intelligent anti-communism through wholesale lying about individuals. And what are his present associations? They are becoming more visible and they do not make him any more attractive a character now than he has made himself in the past. Note:

That the initiative which Matusow took to reverse past testimony came through a conference Matusow and the lawyers defending the 13 second-string Communist leaders in New York.

That Matusow's forthcoming book, "False Witness," is being underwritten by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers which is buying 7,000 to 10,000 copies. This union was expelled from the Congress of Industrial Organizations because it was Communist-dominated.

That Matusow's publishers, Albert E. Kahn and Angus Cameron, have both pled the Fifth Amendment in refusing to testify whether they are members of the Communist party. Matusow, in his new role as recanter of past testimony, casually said that it didn't seem important to him, one way or the other, whether his publishers are Communists.

It seems to me conclusive that Matusow ought not to be and ought never to have been accepted as a witness against anything or for anything, against anybody or for anybody. His motives are obscure and dubious today—as they were during his admitted career of falsification. His credibility seems to me slightly less than zero.

POOR CREDENTIALS

Isn't this the transcendent lesson to be gained from this revolting, miasmic mess which Matusow has strewn in his wake? It is a lesson we can say we have learned only when we honestly explore and answer the question: How and why was Matusow ever turned loose on the American people and on the American courts as a worthy, listenable witness? Did the Justice Department ever really check his credentials and test his credibility before employing him as a paid informer? How thoroughly did any Congressional Committee ever investigate Matusow's fitness to be a witness before giving him the precious platform of Capitol Hill to bear witness—and as it appears, false witness—against his neighbors?

It seems clear, now, that the answer to these questions is negative. There is increasing evidence that in the very early weeks of Matusow's eagerness to inform, which came slyly to the surface in 1951, he was a purposeful, self-serving, highly dubious performer. Before his services were employed by the Justice Department, he remarked to a colleague about his effort to get something subversive on Antioch college: "Never mind, if the files don't show anything, I'll make a case out of them anyhow." He was later reported rifling students' wardrobes in a dormitory.

Some of the evil which Matusow has wrought can be repaired if the whole experience makes the government determined to investigate more thoroughly the character and credibility of such professional informers before it—or the public—gives them house room.

All Juveniles Not Delinquents, Topeka Teenagers Set To Prove

TOPEKA, Kans.—(NEA)—"The Knights," a pyramiding club of teenage boys have set out to wipe out juvenile delinquency by earning the respect of their elders and other teenagers.

No sissies, they are "regular guys" pledged to chivalrous conduct and helping others of their own age group.

"We're going to prove we can go out and handle ourselves like gentlemen," explained Jim Fretz, 16, treasurer. "Too often folks read something about kids getting into trouble and then suspect all teenagers of doing the same thing."

The Knights conduct their meetings at police headquarters but they're on their honor when away from home for other activities. Their sworn objective: "To prove all juveniles are not delinquents and to provide for the common defense of teenagers."

They take an oath of membership to obey the constitutions and laws of the United States and those of their own state, city and organization. New members are accepted only on recommendation of Knights who are convinced of the future good intentions of the applicant. Youths with police records are encouraged by would-be buddies to apply for membership.

A member who violates a law must face the Knights' round-table, a judicial committee which judges and passes sentence. For violating a city ordinance, a Knight recently was sentenced to give a ten-minute talk, explaining why he should not have committed the infraction, at a regular meeting of the Knights. If he breaks parole he must wash the automobiles of all the members and the two police sponsors.

It was the understanding attitude of a young patrolman that led to the organization of the club.

Quiet-mannered, affable Wilbur "Andy" Anderson, 27-year-old father of two pre-school boys, was assigned to investigate reports of teenagers "noisy parties" in the summer of 1953. Out of this acquaintance came a request from some of the youths for permission to hold a street dance. The place later was changed to a tennis court.

When the dance was rained out, Topeka's police chief, S. R. Purdue, invited the youths to use a large meeting room at police headquarters. It was the first time many of the youths had been inside the building; for others who had brushed with the law it was the beginning of a new relationship.

Last November members of a teenage club which had changed its name from "Hooded Klan" to "The Knights" sought out "Andy," the cop who left a good impression. They asked his assistance in "adopting" a family for Christmas. Anderson suggested they channel their thoughtfulness for others into a permanent organization by "adopting" buddies to help solve some of their problems of their own age group.

The youths decided to give the idea a try and organize with 14 charter members. They already have built membership to 49 with 20 applicants waiting to be processed.

"Gaining membership means a lot to the kids who are blamed for things they didn't do," Anderson observed.

Jack Watts, 19, one of the original Knights and now president of the new organization, admits that the original plan of "Hooded Knights" was to wear hooded sweatshirts and employ some secret tactics.

"Our folks thought from the sound of 'Hooded Knights' that we were going to end up in jail, but even after we changed our name it didn't convince them that the title wasn't a front for delinquency," he recalled. "Now we are proud and we want to justify adult confidence in us."

The Knights have toured all divisions of the Topeka police departments and have seen special demonstrations on judo and police equipment, such as lie detectors and firearms.

"When you get to know the police setup, you see how quick they can get you," one youth remarked with unabashed frankness.

"I think I'm lucky," is the way Dave Lawrence, 17, put it on being admitted to membership by the Knights.

On his membership application one would-be member wrote: "I belong to no other social organization and I have few good friends and I am hoping to find some good pals."

On the suggestion of a Topeka druggist, a booster organization called "The Silent Knights" has been formed by civic leaders, businessmen and fathers of the young Knights. They plan to give counsel and personal assistance when requested and match dollar-for-dollar the money the Knights themselves put into their treasury.

Last month 28 members went to Omaha, Neb., for a tour of Boys Town, and now envision a similar setup for their own state. They consider it a long-range dream that will come true someday.

Anderson and the other police sponsor, Patrolman Veron "Robbie" Robinson, have no special formula—apart from a genuine interest in youth—to account for their popularity with the Knights, but they are agreed on this requisite:

You've got to be one of the boys."

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The battle in Washington over the U. S. schoolroom shortage is whether the federal government shall contribute much, little or nothing in the way of financial aid to states needing additional school facilities.

This subject will be much in the news during March as the House Committee on Education and Labor goes through long hearings on conflicting points of view. This investigation will be before the full 30-member committee, with Chairman Graham A. Barden (D., N. C.), an opponent of federal aid to education, presiding.

The first week will be given over to congressmen who have presented bills on aid to education. There are at least a dozen of these bills in the House, not counting four principal bills in the Senate.

The Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, which handles the educational matters, may try to draft a bill and get it passed while the House is still holding hearings. The Senate is much more in favor of federal aid for public schools than the House.

THE SECOND WEEK OF THE House hearings will be given over to the opponents of federal aid. As Rep. Ralph Gwinn (R., N. Y.), another opponent of federal school aid put it, "We want to hear from the defendants in this case."

Third week of the House hearings will bring out the story of those who favor aid, like National Education Association, American Federation of Teachers, and so on.

The hearings will close with the views of the Eisenhower administration, which presents the middle ground of small direct federal grants to meet emergency situations, with loans to local school districts for most of the program.

The majority report takes the position that there is no state which could not do more to solve its own shortages.

One of the main difficulties is to find where the shortages are. Any idea that the need is spread evenly across the country is all wrong.

ACTUALLY, THE PROBLEM breaks down into three parts:

One is taking care of the normal school population growth from year to year. This is 1,500,000 children and they require 50,000 more schoolrooms every year. New school construction has been little more than this the last few years.

The second part is unsafe and obsolete school facilities. This is the biggest part of the problem. Depending on standards used in deciding what an unsafe or obsolete school is, this need is put at from 126,000 more classrooms in the most recent 43-state survey of 1952, to a projected estimate of 210,000 for today.

Overcrowding in multiple-shift schools and temporary, improvised schoolrooms over stores or in basement and Quonset huts—the third part of the shortage—is found in 73,000 to 80,000 classrooms.

About 9 per cent of the total school population of 30 million youngsters, or around 2,700,000 are now stacked in such overcrowded schools. This is the real school shortage.

DR. SAMUEL M. BROWNELL, JR., U. S. commissioner of education, says that a new 27-state survey shows one third of this problem is found in only two states. They are Alabama, which has 330,000 children in overcrowded schoolrooms, and Indiana, which has 365,000.

One half of the overcrowding problem, says Dr. Brownell, can be found in five states. These are Indiana and Alabama plus Mississippi with 150,000 youngsters in overcrowded classrooms, Minnesota with 144,000 and New York with 130,000. This is an interesting list—rich New York with a high per capita income, prosperous Indiana and Minnesota well up the scale, Alabama and Mississippi toward the bottom. Solve their shortages and half the overcrowding problem is licked.

The Doctor Says...
Security Is a Deep-Seated
Need In Every Child

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

I do not know how to improve on a little leaflet issued by the National Association for Mental Health on the subject "What Every Child Needs for Good Mental Health." In this case as in many others it often seems that the most important facts can be put briefly.

The point brought out by this little pamphlet is that in addition to having plenty of good food, sleep, exercise and fresh air children must have their emotional needs met also. The child's immediate happiness is important but parents who would raise their children to be healthy and stable grownups must pay attention to the emotional as well as physical requirements of their offspring.

EVERY CHILD NEEDS to feel the love of his parents and that his parents want and enjoy him and care what happens to him. The child needs to believe that his parents like him for himself, not only when he acts as they want him to but all the time, even when he misbehaves.

Security is a deep-seated need in every child. The home must be built up as a good safe place of retreat with the parents available to support the youngster when he most needs it. The protection of the home and parents when a youngster becomes frightened—as every youngster does some times—gives renewed confidence and fulfills a basic need.

EVERY CHILD NEEDS to know that his parents want him to grow up, that they have confidence in him, and encourage him to try new things for which he is ready and that they do not hold him down with too firm a hand.

The parents are also basically responsible for helping a child to develop such moral qualities as courage, honesty, generosity, and kindness. Children are imitative and if they find their parents possessing such qualities they will, in all likelihood, develop them also.

GUIDANCE IS ANOTHER element which every child needs. He is helped in his first halting tries at walking and should have aid for many years in the problems of life and behavior towards others which the parents have already learned themselves. Finally, the leaflet points out that a child should know that there are limits as to what he is permitted to do and that while he may become angry or jealous such feelings must be held in check and not allowed to hurt others.

All these recommendations sound simple enough but no doubt all of us who are parents can remind ourselves of these points with profit from time to time.

Canton Island Leaps To Life In Air Age

WASHINGTON — Mid-Pacific Canton Island offers an example of man's unrelenting urge to spark new life in off-trail places.

Some 17 years ago the atoll knew only the screams of sea birds, furtive movements of small wildlife and sighs of sea wind in palms. Today it boasts features of an average American community—sounds of fire engine bells, rattles of market pushbaskets and banter of schoolbound children.

The transformation is described in the current issue of the National Geographic Magazine by Howell Walker of the foreign editorial staff.

Change was predicted in 1937 by a party of visiting astronomers. Aware of the air age and the atoll's position 1,909 miles southwest of Honolulu, one member wrote: "Canton Island promises to be an important commercial airplane base in the South Pacific."

The Airplanes Come

Two years later the island's wave-washed sleep broke under roaring motors of Pan American World Airways. A seaplane base was established in the lagoon to service flying boats operating between the United States and Australia.

During World War II—more than a century after its discovery by whaling vessels — the island turned into a stepping-stone for Allied seaborne supplies.

Today three airlines under different flags stop regularly at Canton's airport. Some 280 persons inhabit the island. Their life is not entirely unlike that back home. They have small, neat homes, a hotel, a kindergarten and grade school.

In their hospital in February 1953, "the first American child born on Canton Island came into a coral world," Mr. Walker says. The hospital on such occasions flies a baby blanket from the flagstaff, pink for a girl, blue for a boy.

Pets abound in the population. "Dogs and cats seem to be everywhere," Mr. Walker writes. "One dog has a habit of catching fish in the lagoon." A small boy had 10 rabbits. Parakeets are popular, particularly a pair named Bill and Co. A maintenance engineer owns a monkey named Mary.

Eyesores Disappear

Warlike eyesores have disappeared under civic-minded clean-up drives. And nearly every resident tries gardening in the sun-baked ground. The community has planted a thousand coconut trees, ornamenting the landscape.

For back-home reminders Canton has two theatres (cartoons and Westerns are favorites), Girl Scouts, a bulging commissary and a sign whose many fingers give flying distances to earth's far corners: New York 7,049 mi., San Francisco 4,468 mi., London 10,501 mi., Manila 7,309 mi., Johannesburg 16,190 mi.

London is meaningful in Canton Island's affairs. The United States and the United Kingdom in 1939 assumed joint control of the island for at least 50 years. Each nation supports a post office. Airlines of each equally share port facilities and give employment to many islanders.

No fewer than nine North-South pairs out of the ten pairs in the field reached four spades, with South declarer, usually by this bidding:

South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
 4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

Every West led the club queen, and the suit was continued whether or not the king was played from dummy. Each declarer ruffed, drew trumps—and then eight of the nine tried for the diamond finesse. The loss of that finesse meant the loss of the contract. True, there was still a chance for the hand—the diamond suit might have broken 3-3, so that South's fourth diamond would have provided a heart discard from dummy, but this unlikely break did not materialize, and these declarers received only 3½ match-points each on the board.

Only one South felt that it was worthwhile to try to insure the contract, even at the possible cost of an overtrick (which was improbable in any case). This declarer, after drawing trumps, laid down the ace and king of diamonds, intending to cross to dummy (if the diamond queen hadn't dropped) and lead the third diamond toward the J-5. Then, if East had the queen, the diamond jack would provide for a heart discard from dummy.

Obviously, this South was well rewarded by the fall of the queen—and by getting a top on the board. The fact that diamonds didn't break was relatively inconsequential—he could afford to give up two hearts since he had avoided the diamond loser.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was pushed down today by a series of moderate selling waves. In the early afternoon, prices were off one to four points in many key areas of the list.

Aircraft were hardest hit by the selling and displayed the widest losses.

Trading stepped up to a rate above Monday's 2,630,000 shares. The Senate Banking Committee in Washington in its study of the stock market heard a witness who said the country may be in the early stages of a boom-and-bust cycle that could end in a 1929-style crash.

The day before, the committee under Sen. Fulbright asked the Defense Department for details of companies engaged heavily in defense work.

Monday's market was lower all around with the aircraft weak. U.S. government bonds were higher.

McKie Gives Talk On Switzerland At Norway Meeting

NORWAY — Switzerland, "the land of indescribable beauty," was the topic of a talk given by Gerald McKie, of the Norway junior high school faculty, former resident of Escanaba at the March meeting of the Norway-Vulcan Woman's club.

McKie, who spent two years in Switzerland while a student at the University of Zurich and the University of Basel, spoke highly of the Swiss people. He gave a brief history and geographic description of the country, stating that Switzerland is the smallest democracy in the world having an area of about 15,000 square miles, or about one-third the size of Michigan, but with approximately the same population.

"There are 22 states, and only the men have the right to vote. There is a direct democracy and each year all the voters of the states gather and vote directly for the various issues. Amidst the turmoil and strife going on continuously around them as it had been for the past hundreds of years, Switzerland maintains its neutrality."

"The Swiss work hard — and what they do is perfection itself. The famous watch making is done in the eastern or French sector of the country—the shops show material of fabulous beauty and of excellent quality and weave, anyone living for anytime with the Swiss cannot help but have the highest admiration for them, they are the most scrupulous, hardworking, and peace-loving people on the continent," McKie said.

He also showed slides and displayed souvenirs he brought back with him.

Menominee-Marquette Bridge Bill Filed

LANSING (AP)—Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) introduced a bill today authorizing the State Highway Department to negotiate with Wisconsin highway officials on construction of a bridge between Menominee and Marinette, Wis.

Half of the cost of design would be paid by Michigan and half by Wisconsin. The new span would extend from the south end of First St. in Menominee to Ogden St. in Marinette.

Remagen Bridge Heroes Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday happily created the "Society of the Remagen Bridge" in personally honoring 11 Army veterans who spearheaded the dramatic capture of that strategic bridge over the Rhine in Germany 10 years ago.

Marking the 10th anniversary of the seizure, the President invited the group to the White House and presented each of the veterans a certificate of membership in the new society.

Saved Countless Lives

Capture of the bridge on March 7, 1945, helped end the war in Europe sooner than had been expected and saved the lives of countless Allied soldiers. Without it, crossing of the Rhine would have been much more difficult.

In a jovial reminiscent mood, Eisenhower told the veterans—all winners of the Distinguished Service Cross—that he invited them to the White House "because an old soldier's mind is bound to turn back once in a while to dramatic events."

Eisenhower, supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe in World War II, added that the invitation was his way of "saying hello from the man who was responsible for direction of the overall strategy" of the war.

He said the Remagen feat "typifies the dash, ingenuity and readiness to seize opportunity which characterizes the American soldier."

Symbol of Teamwork

Turning to retired Gen. Carl Spaatz, Eisenhower said the World War II commander of American airpower in Europe was a symbol of "ground-air teamwork" in taking the Remagen bridge.

With a broad smile, Eisenhower then told the Remagen veterans that he had done "something on my own"—created "a new Society of the Remagen Bridge." Then he handed each of them a membership certificate.

The 11 Army men — survivors among 13 who received the distinguished service cross—were accompanied by others who played leading roles in the Remagen operation.

Surprising the Germans, units of a combat command of the 9th Armored Division got a foothold across the Rhine before the Germans could destroy the bridge, and secured it for use of American troops.

The feat gave Eisenhower the springboard for his final victorious offensive in Germany.

Study Program, First Of Series, At League Meeting

"The concept of 'divine' right to rule and the beginning of 'limited' government can be traced back to the early Egyptians and Hebrews", stated Miss Alice Potter at the regular meeting of the League of Women Voters in Carnegie Public Library last evening. Miss Potter and Miss Nina Ley, chairman of the League's national study item on individual liberties in the public interest, presented the first of a series of programs in this field.

Miss Nina Ley stated, "The National League adopted the item at its convention in Denver last year because the stress of the times and the debate throughout the country on what constitutes 'mutual security' and what endangers our liberties needs such a group as the League to evaluate the principles we have inherited."

Historical Background
"The subject requires a historical background of 'limited' government and the beginnings of the Bill of Rights," she continued, as she introduced Miss Potter, who presented a very interesting brief history.

Explaining how the "Divine Right of Kings" gradually was superseded by kings selected by a parliament of the nobles and upper middle class, Miss Potter showed how our present governmental division of three units: executive, legislative, and judiciary, evolved.

"Developing the 'Bill of Rights' was not an innovation of one person or one country, but had the ideal place to grow in America. Here there were many sects of people and so much area for expansion," related Miss Potter.

Budget for Year
During the business meeting, Miss Delight Mashek, chairman, submitted the budget for the next fiscal year. Members will vote on it at the annual business meeting, March 21. Members of her committee included Mrs. James Fitzharris, and Mrs. Frank Neumeier.

Mrs. Russell Johnson, president, announced that the State Board had recommended to the local units that the state item for study for the next two years be "Know Your State". Various local Leagues have also sent information and their recommendations on items to Escanaba in advance of the state convention in Kalamazoo in April. Members will vote on the items, so that delegates to the convention may vote as representatives of the local group.

If you want a fine upstanding pie crust, be sure to roll out the pie dough one inch larger than the inverted pie pan. This will give you enough pastry to work with when you seal and flute the edge.

Your Baby

Baby should have a change of cereal now and then so he doesn't weary of it. This also helps to get him used to different kinds of food. Start with a teaspoonful of cereal once a day and add to it gradually. By the time he's seven months old, he may eat from two to five tablespoonfuls a day or even twice a day. Once in a while, give him a potato that you've mashed with a fork and moistened with a little milk.

To give your carpet the "new" look, try shampooing it with dry suds. To make this from soap, dissolve 1 cup mild soap flakes in 3 cups hot water. Let stand until it forms a jelly. Then beat about one half cup of the jelly at a time in a mixing bowl. When stiff, apply to the rug or carpet.

U.S. Men Adding Height But Still Not Tallest

WASHINGTON — Americans are growing taller all the time, but they need still more stature before they equal the Nilotics of Africa, the world's tallest people.

The Nilotic tribes live near the headwaters of the White Nile where two of Nero's centurions found them late in the first century A. D. Some of their men tower a lofty 7 feet. Their average approximates 5 feet 10 inches, about 2 inches taller than the typical American male.

Anthropologists agree that Americans are adding height, says the National Geographic Society. But why are they? And why are Nilotics already so tall? Science offers several educated guesses but warns that final proof is lacking.

GI Taller Than Doughboy

Evidence of the American's increased build stems from several sources, according to Dr. Marshall T. Newman of the Smithsonian Institution. Two indicators are studies made of soldier and college-student physiques. It was found that the GI of World War II stood  $\frac{3}{4}$  of an inch above his doughboy counterpart of World War I. Data also showed that Harvard, Wellesley and Vassar students of two decades ago topped their parents.

Economic factors offer significant clues to growth. Those who can eat well and afford better medical attention tend to grow more. For instance, Chinese, Japanese and Mexicans brought up on bountiful United States diets outrange their kin at home.

The economic theory also gains support from another fact: the taller modern American eats more regularly and more varied fare than his forebears of the recent past.

The Nilotics are noted for a number of characteristics. They clothe themselves scantily, if at all. They carry their babies on their backs and enormous loads of brushwood on their heads. They love to leap and stamp in dance ceremonies, jangling ankle bells, flaunting monkey fur and tossing bright headdresses. Amazing high jumpers, they clear the bar at 7 feet 6 inches after a take-off from a foot-high termite mound. They are skilled hunters.

Cattle Raisers, Beef Eaters

But these habits hardly account for their bean-pole stature. More important is the fact they are great cattle raisers and beef eaters. The high protein value of the meat is thought to help their lanky growth.

Anthropologists also point to another factor; long, thin bodies seem better adapted to dissipating heat in dry tropic areas such the Nilotics' upland home country. Strangely, in the Ituri Forest region of the eastern Belgian Congo not far from the southernmost Nilotic tribes, live some 40,000 Pygmies, averaging 4 feet 6 inches. As a rule, Pygmies dwell in the damp rain forest's where, anthropologists believe, small bodies are better suited to the high humidity.

Because cats were associated with witches, several attempts were made to wipe them out during the Middle Ages and some authorities think outbreaks of the plague were brought about because of the resulting increase in the number of rats.

Power Plant Chief Named

Wilber F. Montgomery of Minneapolis, who has 11 years experience in power plant work, has been appointed superintendent of the Gladstone electric generating plant, it was announced today by City Manager H. J. Henrikson.

The appointment was made after a special meeting of the Gladstone City Commission last night, at which the city manager was authorized to hire a power plant superintendent.

Montgomery will receive a salary of $6,500 per year. The city will also allow him $200 for moving expenses. He is now employed in the power plant of the Hamm Brewing Company at Minneapolis.

The city manager said that Montgomery will arrive here within a week or so and will advise in the employment of men to operate the generating plant. To be hired are three turbine operators, three boiler operators, one combination boiler-turbine man, and one maintenance man. These men are to be selected locally, the city manager said.

By early April, Montgomery will be permanently settled as a resident of Gladstone.

Tells Change In Income Tax Law

Changes in the Revenue Code of 1954 (income tax law to you and I) were explained before the Rotary Club Monday noon at the Yacht Club by Andrew M. Skaug, Escanaba, certified public accountant.

Attending the meeting from Escanaba in addition to Skaug were George Stuart and George Marcoulier. Harry Richards, Grand Rapids, was a guest at the meeting.

Several changes have been made in the matter of dependants, the speaker said. In the past, if a person made $600 or more in a year, he or she could not be claimed as a dependant. Under the '54 law, if the dependant is a child under 19 or is going to college, that person can be claimed as a dependant provided half or more of their support is given by the parents.

Also for the first time, cousins qualify as dependants and where children support parents, some one of the children may be named to assume the entire dependency, instead of dividing it, and they may rotate the dependency year by year.

Extra 10% on Gifts
In the matter of sickness pay, the first $100 per week is exempt from income tax with the exception of the first 7 days unless one of the 7 days was spent in a hospital.

Regarding contributions, an individual can now take 30 per cent of gross income provided the extra 10 per cent goes to churches or schools. Medicinal expense is limited to 3 per cent.

Changes at a business and corporate level also were related by Skaug.

Clarification will be needed on many of the new regulations and the revenue department undoubtedly will seek judicial rulings so it may be some time before decrees are issued by the courts, the speaker said in closing.

City Election Contests Sure

Contests were assured for each of the local offices to be filled at the election Monday, April 4, when the deadline for filing nominating petitions was reached yesterday afternoon at 5.

Two city commissioners will be elected for 3-year terms, the tenure of Michael LaPine and Adam Sinclair expiring. Both of the incumbents are seeking reelection. Also in the race for commissioner will be Andrew Robare who has been taking a prominent part in promoting the Delta Memorial Hospital for Gladstone.

Two justices of peace also are to be named at the election, one for a full four year term, the other for two years to complete the terms of Oliver C. Estenson, resigned.

A Theodore Sholberg is the justice whose term is expiring and he is seeking reelection. Also filing for the full term is Ed C. Perkins, local service station operator.

Three have filed for the short term. They are John DeMay, disabled war veteran; Leo DeRoek, baker, businessman and representative of the secretary of state, and Archie D. Harris, retired Soo Line freight agent.

All petitions have been checked and the candidates were certified and their names ordered placed on ballots as candidates by the city commission in special session last evening.

Dr. Fyvie Is Speaker For Cancer Meeting

Dr. James H. Fyvie, of Manistique, will be the principal speaker at a public meeting to be held at 2:30 p. m., Friday, March 18, in Lakeside school under sponsorship of the Schoolcraft county Cancer society.

The Manistique doctor, will speak on cancer of the lung, and a film on cancer, "The Warning Shadow," will be shown. Mrs. J. C. Butler, of Houghton, U. P. chairman for the American Cancer society, will be here for the meeting.

The Schoolcraft unit of the American Cancer society will open a fund-raising drive here April 1, under chairmanship of Otmer Schuster. During the period Oct. 1, 1953, to Sept. 30, 1954, it contributed $450 to the cytology laboratory at Menominee; $100 for dressings; $50 for drugs and supplies; $100 for transportation of patients, and $100 for educational material, including films.

The above expenses totaling $775 represented half of the 1953 funds collected here. Mrs. Frank W. Arrowood, chairman, reported. The other half of the money contributed here goes to the state and national society for research, she explained.

The 1953 drive fell short of its goal of $615. Mrs. Arrowood stated, so some activities had to be curtailed. In the past year, only $300 was sent to the cytology laboratory, though it provides a service.

During the past year, there were 17 deaths due to cancer in Schoolcraft county and, in ratio with the county's population, is low in comparison with other U. P. counties, Mrs. Arrowood pointed out.

The Schoolcraft chapter has two educational films it will loan or show, and has a complete loan closet which includes two hospital beds, sickroom equipment and other items needed in care of the ill. These articles are loaned to any cancer patient.

Deaf And Blind Parents Win Fight To Keep Infant

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A deaf and blind couple won their fight to keep their 2-week-old baby, as a Juvenile Court judge ruled the County Welfare Department can't make them put it in a foster home. Judge Russell Thomas said Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hathaway can keep their son "with no strings attached."

The ruling came after a two hour informal hearing sought by the Welfare Department, Welfare Director Leo Mulhearn said he wanted the hearing to find out if the baby should not be placed with foster parents who could see. Hathaway, 53, and his wife, Georgia, 32, were supported by friends and neighbors from nearby Stow where they live. They had claimed that despite their handicaps they were able to care for the child.

Mrs. Hathaway said the healthy, normal child "is the only thing I ever had of my own in my whole life."

Hathaway was informed of the judge's decision by a friend who wrote the words on his hand.

Judge Thomas said he based his finding "on the fact that there had been such terrific interest shown in this case all over the country, and so many people have offered to help."

"I am sure the Hathaways can rear their child with the help of others under the guidance of the court," the judge said.

A big crowd of people swarmed around the courtroom.

Deer Starvation Problem In U. P. Is Outlined Here

Deer starvation due to overbrowsing is much more prevalent in Upper Michigan than most people realize, D. F. Switzenberg, biologist in charge of the Cusino Wildlife Experiment Station at Shingleton told members of the Manistique Rotary Club Monday noon.

The deer population in the Peninsula is not decreasing due to killing, he explained, but due to overbrowsing. The biologist for the Michigan Conservation Department pointed out, however, that there are probably more deer in this area now than in former years, when virgin stands of timber were common, because the older timber was harder for the deer to reach for food.

He noted that according to a recent survey of 11 representative U. P. areas, there were an average of 342 deer per square mile.

Cutting Helms

Since World War II, the deer herd appears to be decreasing, Switzenberg said, because timber is growing faster than it is being harvested. Literally the deer are "eating themselves out of house and home," Switzenberg explained, adding that when the timber market is good, there is much browse for deer.

A new method of determining the age of deer by a study of their teeth has been devised in New York, the biologist said, and is being used in Michigan. The data on age composition of the deer kill should reveal trends in the health of the deer herd, he explained.

Experiments in direction of timber cuttings and control of slash also are aiding conservationists in study of methods of deer herd control, the biologist noted. He added that cutting of aspen and cedar especially aids in providing reachable browse for deer.

Deer And Trees

A new method of obtaining a more accurate deer census is being sought, Switzenberg told Rotarians, explaining that there is a need to know the number of deer, though the conservation department is more interested in observing trends revealed by difference.

Loss of deer due to predatory animals is not a serious problem, he indicated, because timber wolves, which feed almost entirely on deer, are few in number. Coyotes, bear and bobcats kill deer, he said, as well as fox and dogs, but the loss due to starvation, because there are too many deer for the feed available, is much greater.

Tree reproduction is affected by deer browsing, Switzenberg noted, and the coniferous trees to a greater extent than deciduous. Deer will kill off cedar in a swamp, as well as hemlock, but deciduous trees grow sprouts and recover from the browsing, he stated.

Large Bear Population

The biologist also told of attempts to kill seven deer in a controlled hunt in a square mile area last fall, and reported that four of the seven have now been trapped. The deer were not seen in the 4-day hunt last fall, he said, adding that when hunters fail to see deer, it does not mean there are none. The Conservation Department official estimated the meat value alone of the U. P. deer herd at approximately $1 million, and that of ruffed grouse at $75,000. This is in addition to their recreation value.

Upper Michigan has a big bear population, probably second only to Pennsylvania, the game biologist pointed out, but the prairie chicken is gone with the days of Little Hulbert, the Class E team that will go against Trout Creek in the regional tournament semifinal game at Holy Name Thursday night, have a rough time capturing the district title at Sault Ste. Marie. Hulbert has 14 students, seven of them boys who are all on the basketball team. In the championship game against Paradise Saturday night, four of the seven Hulbert players fouled out of action and the team finished the fourth period and an overtime with only three players on the floor, but won by a 58-56 margin.

Wakefield is the only defending champion out of the running in the Upper Peninsula cage tournament picture. The Cardinals lost to Ontonagon 65-50 in the Class C district finals. Munising in Class B, Mass in Class D and Alpha in Class E will be seeking repeat performances in the championship tournaments.

Green Bay East and Green Bay West had quite a battle in their regional cage clash in the Wisconsin state prep tourney last week. The game was tied 45-45 at the end of regulation play. The teams played two scoreless overtime periods. Two players (under Wisconsin rules) from each team fired free throws and each scored once to tie it again at 46-46. Then the three remaining players from each team stepped to the foul line. East's players shot first and scored all three tosses. The first West player hit his free throw but the second missed and the third philosophically declined his shot, making the final score 49-47.

When the Rock Little Giants last won a Class D regional championship in 1946, the Upper Peninsula was not represented in downstate competition in that class. That was the last year the U. P. Class D champion did not travel downstate for state tournament competition.

The Nahma Alpha, who face a tough task in meeting defending Class E champ Alpha in the regional tournament opener Thursday night, have a remarkable tournament record dating back to the 1951 season. That year Coach Harold Anderson's quint lost to Michigamme in the U. P. championship game. In 1952 the Arrows swept through 21 straight season and tournament victories to win the Class E crown. In 1953 they repeated as Peninsula and state (there are no Class E teams downstate) champion and last season they advanced to the district finals before losing to Perkins.

Souchak Is Different; Likes Cheer Of Crowds

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Mike Souchak, a double winner on the winter tournament trail, is a bear-like young golfer who learned to like the cheers of a crowd as a football star at Duke.

"I play better golf when I've got a large gallery," says Mike. That makes him a novelty in a sport where starts often are angered by crowd noises.

The love of cheers helped the 27-year-old former Duke end win the $6,000 first prize at the Houston Open and set three records in taking the Texas Open at San Antonio.

At Houston, the 210-pound, 5-10 Souchak had the largest gallery of his brief career.

"We had about 6,000 people with us all the way around," he said. "As we got near the end we had about 10,000 and on the last hole they say there were 17,000 watching."

At San Antonio, the crowds cheered him to a record 27 for nine holes and records of 60 for 18 and 257 for 72.

In the $12,500 Baton Rouge Open tournament, which finished Sunday, Souchak played spotty golf. He was in continuous trouble but he shot steady rounds of 71, 72, 71 and finished with a three-under 69.

One thing Souchak says he learned from tournament golf is not to his his drives so hard. "When I turned pro, I was one of the longest drivers in the game, and one of the wildest," he explains. "Now I don't hit the ball so hard and control it better." Souchak still outdrives most pros by 10 to 20 yards.

Soo Juniors Win State Puck Title

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit claimed three of four championships in the Michigan Amateur Hockey Assn. finals Sunday.

Detroit retained the pee-wee crown which they had won a year ago and added the juvenile and senior championships.

Sault Ste. Marie gained the lone Upper Peninsula victory dethroning Detroit as junior titlists.

Detroit's Rose Truck Pee-wees took their title with a 2-1 overtime victory over East Houghton. The Detroit juveniles won with a 3-2 overtime win over Houghton.

Sault Ste. Marie took a one-sided 7-1 triumph over Detroit Gage Olds.

Detroit Bessy Awning won the senior championship 4-1 from the Sault Mohawks who had been the title holders for the past four seasons.

Fred Devouna was awarded the Fenwick Memorial Trophy for the outstanding junior player for the tournament. He is the captain of the Soo IBC Juniors.

Jackie Pung Breaks Four-Way Golf Tie

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Jackie Pung of Honolulu fired a par 72 Monday to break a four-way tie and capture the $5,000 Jacksonville Women's Open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 297.

Mary Lena Faulk, Patty Berg and Fay Crocker who had been deadlocked with Mrs. Pung at the start of the final round finished one stroke back.

Mrs. Pung's victory here was worth $1,000.

Miss Faulk of Thomasville, Ga.; Miss Berg of St. Andrews, Ill.; and Uruguay's Miss Crocker got $600 each.

East Boasts Threat In NAIA Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The East, which has failed to come up with a champion in the past 16 National Intercollegiate (NAIA) basketball tournaments sends highly regarded St. Francis of Brooklyn in quest of its first title today.

The St. Francis Terriers, who have knocked off such teams as City College of New York, Seton Hall and Siena in regular season play, meet Quincy, Ill., College in their first round start.

St. Francis has a 16-8 record. Quincy has won 16 and lost 8. Play followed script in the opening set of eight games Monday except for Southwestern of Winfield Kan., upsetting Loyola of Los Angeles, 83-79.

In regular season play, Loyola, beat such schools as Santa Clara and Southern California. Southwestern, with an enrollment of about 400, is one of the smallest colleges entered in the six-day tournament.

Lafayette Norwood, a 5 foot 6 inch junior, led Southwestern to a 50-41 halftime lead but Loyola pressed the Kansans to the limit in the second half.

Hawks Will Tackle Radars In Playoff Opener Tonight

The Escanaba Hawks begin defense of the coveted Doc Gibson Cup when they entertain the Calumet Radars tonight at 8:15 in the first of a best-of-three semifinal playoff series.

Last season the Hawks started Upper Peninsula hockey circles by coming from nowhere to blast Marquette and Portage Lake in the post-season playoffs. This year Marquette failed to make the playoff round, finishing fifth in the five-team league.

After a strong finish for a solid second place in the final league standings, the Hawks are primed for playoff action and will be all out in tonight's opening clash with the Radars.

Easy Ed Sets Unique Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Boston's Easy Ed McAuley has fashioned a remarkable National Basketball Assn. record while the spotlight has been on the drive of Neil Johnston of Philadelphia to capture his third straight individual scoring title.

McAuley has been disqualified by personal fouls only four times in the last five regular seasons. Since January 1951, the Boston beanpole has fouled out only once in a stretch of 305 games.

Johnston has dropped in 1,525 points for a 110-point margin over Milwaukee's Bob Pettit, the second place scorer with 1,415. Johnston also has the best average with 22.8 points a game.

Larry Foust of Fort Wayne tops Rochester's Jack Coleman in field goal percentage, 48.6 to 45.7, and Boston's Bill Sharman is ahead of Fort Wayne's Frank Brian in free throw accuracy, 90.1 to 85.

In the battle for second place in the eastern division, the Boston Celtics moved to within a half game of second - place New York by defeating Fort Wayne Pistons 110-91 in the second game Monday at Boston. The Minneapolis Lakers nipped the Knicks in the opener 97-96 on Jim Pollard's 20-foot push shot with 30 seconds remaining.

Fort Wayne was redhot at the free throw line, sinking 39 of 44 tries, including 13 out of 13 by big Don Meineke who led the Pistons with 23 points. Cousy had 22 for Boston.

New York, trailing by 17 at halftime, led 96-95 with one minute left. Then came Pollard's clincher.

Robinson Draws Ring Suspension

BOSTON (AP)—Boxer Sugar Ray Robinson has drawn what amounts to a lifetime ban in Massachusetts for his last-minute pullout from last Saturday night's scheduled bout with Georgie Small of Brooklyn.

But the dapper ex-middleweight and welterweight king will be free to fight elsewhere because — after Robinson agreed to pay the $3,500 losses suffered by promoter Sam Silverman — the Massachusetts Boxing Commission did not press for a general ban by the National Boxing Assn.

Robinson withdrew shortly before the bout, complaining he had a sore throat and virus symptoms which he said made him too weak to appear.

Dr. Edwin Hommel of the boxing commission said after an examination that Robinson showed "no evidence of sickness or injury which would warrant a postponement."

Robinson is slated to fight Johnny Lombardo in Cincinnati March 15 and Ted Olla in Milwaukee the following week.

history, the hustling Hawks came out on top of their regular season series with Calumet, winning three, losing two and tying one. In the six games the Hawks and Radars scored 29 goals each. At home against the Radars the Hawks won one, lost one and tied one and at Calumet they won two and lost one.

Coach Mark Olson, who is the team's top-point-producer, reports the Hawks will be in tip-top shape for tonight's clash and all players will be available. Tony Mancini and Steve Butorac, who are employed in Canadian Soo, will be on hand. They were unable to be at Calumet Saturday night when the Hawks dropped a 5-4 decision to the Radars in the final game of the season.

Win Fourth Place

That win for Calumet put the Radars into the fourth playoff spot by a slim edge over the Marquette Sentinels. The Radars and the Sentinels finished in a tie for fourth in games won and points, but the Calumet team finished the season with three more goals scored to break the playoff deadlock.

Ben Artwich of Stambaugh, the league's outstanding net-minder, will be in the Escanaba goal tonight. Available for defensive work will be star Joe Nogalo, who scored three of Escanaba's goals in the final game, vastly-improved Floyd Stac, Dick Johnson and Clarence Matt.

Working on the front lines, along with Olson, will be Buddy Provo, Joe Ricci, Mancini, Butorac, Almo Muhonen and Warner Wilson. Bill Suriano and Bob Higgins will be available for spare duty.

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press
BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Del Crandall's teammates believe today the youthful captain of the Milwaukee Braves could finish the 1955 baseball season as the champion catcher of the National League.

Crandall said his outlook in 1953 wasn't at all bright when he was released from the army with a bad right arm.

"Every time I threw a ball the pain was terrific," Crandall said. "But the trouble disappeared in time. Now I like to throw out every man I can."

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Stan Hack, manager of the Chicago Cubs, is beaming over the results of his team's workouts.

"I'm beginning to see things I like," said Hack. "We're going to have speed and power and better pitching."

The Cubs held a six inning squad game Monday in which Eddie Miksis and Vern Morgan hit home runs. It was Morgan's second home run in as many days.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Sandy Consuegra, the little right hander who led American League pitchers in percentage with a 16-3 record, is back in form.

Sandy hurled two innings of a camp game Monday giving up one hit and striking out two.

Bob Keegan and Jack Harshman are scheduled to work today.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers says his 10-man squad of outfielders includes "five of the best throwing outfielders I've ever seen on one time."

Harris was talking about Al Kaline, Bill Tuttle, J. W. Porter, Bubba Phillips and Jim Delsing. Kaline and Tuttle last season threw out 34 men trying to stretch a hit.

Porter's arm, Harris thinks, may turn out to be stronger and more accurate than Tuttle's.

Porter will start in left field when the Tigers open their exhibition game schedule Thursday against the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater. Tuttle will play center and Kaline right.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—

A rookie pitcher, Carl Duser, has the Kansas City A's manager and coaches talking in superlatives.

"It's almost unbelievable the progress that boy has made," commented manager Lou Boudreau after Duser hurled three innings in an intrasquad game Monday and gave up one weak hit.

Duser was with Lancaster, Pa., in the Piedmont League last season.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals wound up with two pitchers and an outfielder on the casualty list Monday.

Veteran hurler Vic Raschi has a lame back, outfielder Tom Burgess a strained tendon in his right hand and sophomore pitcher Gordon Jones a sprained ankle.

LaSalle Begins Defense Of National Cage Title

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press

LaSalle's Explorers, led by three-time All America Tom Gola, open defense of their national intercollegiate basketball title tonight, meeting West Virginia's Southern Conference champions in one of eight preliminary games scheduled for four cities.

Actually, the NCAA Tournament gets under way before the field of 24 is completed. The Ivy League, which ended in a three-way tie as Princeton defeated Brown 58-39 Monday night, will decide its representative at Rutgers Wednesday night when Columbia meets Princeton.

Columbia eliminated Pennsylvania 73-71 in a game played after the Princeton-Brown contest. The Ivy champion Friday will play the LaSalle-West Virginia winner at Philadelphia.

Triple-Header
LaSalle (22-4) and West Virginia (19-10) wind up a triple-header at New York's Madison Square Garden. Williams, (17-1) New England representative, takes on Canisius (16-6) in the first game and Duke (20-7), runner-up to ineligible North Carolina State in the Atlantic Coast Conference, meets Villanova (16-9).

The other preliminary round games will be played at Lexington, Ky., El Reno, Okla., and San Francisco.

Marquette, which had the unique regular season record of losing its first and last games but winning 22 in between, takes on Miami of Ohio (14-8), the Mid-American champion, at Lexington. The other game matches Penn State (17-8), third in last year's championship, and Memphis State, a small college powerhouse which put together a string of 16 straight in compiling a 17-4 record.

No 1 Quint
San Francisco's Dons, the nation's No. 1 team with a 23-1 record and featuring All America Bill Russell, swing into action against West Texas (14-7), Border Conference representative, at San Francisco. On the same card, Idaho State (18-7), Rocky Mountain Conference titleholder, tackles Seattle (19-5) in the fifth meeting of the

Wolverines Nail Defeat On Iowa

ANN ARBOR (P)—Michigan's Wolverines, fighting to keep out of the Big Ten cellar, did the "impossible" last night, upsetting conference champion Iowa, 74-58, in a freak season finale.

To do it, Michigan received startling performances from a pair of guards, junior Tom Jorgenson and Don Eaddy, a senior playing his last game.

Jorgenson netted 26 points for scoring honors and Eaddy had 20 before leaving the game with a minute and a half to go while 4,500 fans gave him a standing ovation.

At the half Michigan led 37-27, and although Iowa came within four points twice in the second half, Michigan had too much spirit.

It was Iowa's third loss against 11 conference victories. The Hawkeyes were already a mathematical certainty for the conference title.

It was Michigan's fifth victory against nine losses.

Michigan's Ron Kramer, a jumping ball hawking center, hit for 16 of Michigan's points. More important was the rebounding job he turned in that left the Hawkeyes powerless under the net.

Santee To Run In Warmup Mile

HOUSTON (P)—The U.S. Pan-American track and field squad takes its final competitive warmup tonight with Wes Santee and Fred Dwyer renewing their rivalry in the mile run.

Both gained victories in the East but the duel reached a climax with their wrestling match finish in the Wanamaker mile in Madison Square Garden.

Santee, the Kansas star, holds the American record of 4:00.6.

Also in the race will be Bob McMillen, the former Occidental runner who ran a close second to Luxemburg's Josy Barthel in the 1,500-meter race in the 1952 Olympics.

Pan-American entries in the sprints include Willie Williams, the 100-yard dash NCAA champion from Illinois.

Most of the 34-man United States team leaves Wednesday by plane for Mexico City for the March 12-26 Pan-American Games. Santee will compete in an indoor meet in Milwaukee March 12 and then fly to Mexico.

Churchill, Feeble 80, Still Can Bounce Back

By EDDY GILMORE

London (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, 80, remains one of the liveliest feeble men in the world.

Just over 15 years ago the late Wendell Willkie, here for a private visit, confided:

"Churchill's a great old man, but I'm afraid he's getting a little feeble."

Two days after he said that Willkie called on Churchill at No. 10 Downing St. Following their talk the Prime Minister accompanied the visiting American to the door step.

Tires His Staff Out

They stood there for photographs and as Willkie was leaving, Churchill took him by the arm, saying:

"Here, Mr. Willkie, let me show you down this step. When it rains it sometimes becomes slippery."

Back at his hotel Willkie smiled and said, "And I called him feeble."

One year later Churchill was in Moscow having his first meeting with Joseph Stalin. The late Lord Inverchapel was then the British ambassador in Russia.

"He looks fine," mused the envoy, "but I'm afraid he's showing signs of feebleness."

Before he left Moscow on that trip Churchill exhausted the ambassador and half his staff of young men.

Two years later, in October 1944, Churchill was back in Moscow for more talks with Stalin. The late Maxim Litvinov, who'd known Churchill for years, sighed and shook his head.

"At last, I'm afraid he's getting feeble."

Newsman Fooled

A few days ago (Feb. 28) Churchill was the guest of honor at a correspondents' luncheon. At one table was a British newsman who has been watching Churchill for 25 years.

"He's all right," he confided, "but watch him when he comes in. You'll see what I mean. He's getting a bit feeble."

Five minutes later the old man surged into the dining room, marched with sure strides around the hall, using no walking stick and holding no one's arm.

"Well, I'm damned," said the newspaperman. "He's made a liar out of me."

The truth is Churchill has good days and bad days. Some days he may give the appearance of feebleness. And then he bounces right back with the energy of a man many years his junior.

Legion Post Has Emergency Cook

ROCKVILLE, Conn. (AP)—Fellow members of the American Legion agree that Jerry Remkiewicz is a handy man to have around when you're hungry. Rockville legionnaires arrived at their post for a chicken dinner only to find that the chickens had not been cooked, because the bakery which was supposed to do the job had misunderstood the order.

Remkiewicz built a barbecue pit on the post grounds and cooked the 50 chickens.

CAIN RAISES A POINT OF SAFETY — Ray Cain, a chauffeur for the Kansas City, Mo., board of education shows an thought-provoking sign he painted on his car. He has spent an average of six hours per week painting such signs on his car, and in five years has painted 150 of them. Cain says he believes these signs help other motorists, who see them, drive more cautiously.

Haiti Is The World's Only Two-Nation Island

WASHINGTON—Haiti's President Paul Magloire, now on official tour of Washington and other American cities, heads the only French-speaking nation in Latin America.

With the Spanish-speaking people of the Dominican Republic, the Haitians occupy the Caribbean island of Hispaniola, about halfway between Cuba and Puerto Rico. It is the world's only island that is home to two sovereign states, says the National Geographic Society.

Haiti covers the western third of Hispaniola, where two long peninsulas reach out claws of a giant crab around the Gulf of Gonaves.

Three and a quarter million people crowd into this sun-drenched, mountain-crumpled land. With an area of less than 11,000 square miles, Haiti is the most densely populated republic in the Western Hemisphere.

Soil Chief Resource

Farming has provided Haiti's chief means of support since the days of Spanish settlement following Columbus' discovery of the island in 1492. After the French took over the western region at Saint Domingue in 1697, their lushly profitable sugar and coffee plantations became the envy of the colonial world.

The problem then was lack of manpower, for practically all the original Indian inhabitants had been wiped out during the early waves of Spanish colonization and fruitless search for gold. To obtain the necessary labor for the plantations, France imported more and more slaves from Africa, thus establishing the basis for today's teeming population.

But modern Haiti's farm pattern has changed drastically. Instead of big estates, small and numerous holdings are the rule. Some 80 to 90 per cent of the citizens make their living from the soil. Most own the plots they work.

Coffee, sisal fiber, sugar and cacao are leading export crops and the mainstays of Haitian economy. The farmers, however, have a problem in producing food enough for the nation's needs.

Only about a third of mountainous Haiti is available for cultivation. Heavy erosion reduces production.

U. N. and U. S. Help

The United States and United Nations help with soil-erosion control, irrigation, and improved growing methods.

An overall five year plan spurs industrialization. Construction has begun on big dam and power works of the central Artibonite River. An American company mines bauxite (aluminum ore) in the southern peninsula.

Tourism is booming as visitors discover the spectacular scenery, colorful native life, and the scenes and relics of a dramatic, often tragic history.

Americans particularly recall that Haiti played a sympathetic role in the American Revolution. Through it France directed secret arms to the American colonists. Haitian volunteers, including men who later became leaders in winning their own freedom, fought in Washington's army.

The Louisiana Purchase became possible because of Napoleon's losses in the Haitian independence struggle that ended in 1804.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

DEADLY SAWDUST

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Seventy cows broke into an old shed on Peter Suta's ranch and ate some sawdust stored there. Thirty-five of them died. Suta said arsenic had been mixed with the sawdust as grasshopper bait 20 years before.
